

Strategies Worth Celebrating

Throughout your life, you've worked hard and also received God's abundant blessings. As a faithful steward of the finances which God has entrusted you, you have endeavored to make the best decisions possible regarding your budget, investing for your future, and blessing your family. Meanwhile, when you've seen a need, you've also made it a priority to respond generously—changing lives through donations that have benefited people in all walks of life. You've also made a commitment to compassionately serving in community so that all are free to choose abundant life through your kingdom investment in [ministry name].

The Ideal Personal Giving Strategy

[ministry name] has partnered with Faithward Advisors to provide planned giving guidance and estate services for our supporters. By taking the time to plan for giving the right asset at the right time, Faithward Advisors can help you balance your personal giving goals, while increasing your tax benefits for the maximum use of your dollars. The result is that your gift is implemented at the most opportune time, enabling [ministry name] to also Do More® compassionately serving in community so that all are free to choose abundant life... for many years to come!

Legacy Planning Options

The federal government has offered incentives for charitable giving through income tax deductions, capital gains reduction, and estate tax minimization. Because of this, giving can be maximized through proper planning and solutions designed with each person's unique situation in mind. There are many legacy planning options available, each providing unique tax advantages and benefits to both the donor and [ministry name]. In addition to giving cash, here are just a few options:
